

Instructional Assistant (IA) for Emotional Disabilities classroom (for students with emotional and behavioral challenges)

The Emotional Disabilities IA responsibilities include, but will not be limited to: assist students with morning check-in and afternoon check-out activities; will assist students in a one-on-one or small group setting; will accompany students to general education and special area classes and support them in those areas; will utilize de-escalation techniques with students when behaviors and emotions are becoming escalated; will maintain records and collect data as directed by the teacher; will reinforce and support social skills acquisition and maintenance; will provide personal care support for and with students as needed; and, perform other student, classroom, teacher, and school support as requested.