If you enjoy evaluating and serving students with a wide range of communication needs, work well as part of an IEP team, and like seeing students find their voice, we want to hear from you.

The Role

As a Speech-Language Pathologist at South Redford, you will evaluate, identify, and serve students with speech and language impairments across several of our buildings. You will manage a caseload, write and carry out speech and language goals, and work closely with classroom teachers, teacher consultants, school psychologists, social workers, OTs, PTs, and families. This position also supports evaluations for young children entering our programs, including children transitioning from Early On.

What You'll Do

- Write clear evaluation reports and present results at eligibility and IEP team meetings.
- Develop measurable speech and language goals in accordance with IDEA and MARSE.
- Provide direct and consultative services through pull-out, push-in, and classroom-based models.
- Manage a caseload and service schedule across assigned buildings.
- Monitor and report student progress toward IEP goals at the frequency specified in each IEP.
- Maintain accurate service logs and Medicaid documentation as required.
- Consult with teachers and take part in MTSS and Student Support Team problem solving for students with communication concerns.
- Support students who use augmentative and alternative communication (AAC).
- Communicate regularly with families and help them support communication goals at home.

What You Bring

Required

- Master's degree in speech-language pathology meeting the requirements of the Michigan Administrative Rules for Special Education (MARSE), R 340.1796.
- Current Michigan Speech-Language Pathologist license issued by the Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA).
- Working knowledge of IDEA, MARSE, Section 504, and FERPA.
- Strong communication, organization, and relationship-building skills.
- Ability to travel between district buildings.
- Commitment to equity and high expectations for every learner.

Preferred

- ASHA Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology (CCC-SLP).
- School-based speech-language pathology experience, especially in Michigan.
- Experience evaluating and serving preschool-age children, including children transitioning from Early On.
- Experience with augmentative and alternative communication (AAC) assessment and implementation.
- Experience with a special education case management platform (such as PowerSchool Special Programs, Frontline IEP, or equivalent).

What We Offer

- Competitive salary based on education and verified experience (per the SREA Master Agreement).
- Comprehensive health, dental, and vision benefits.
- MPSERS retirement participation.
- A collaborative student services team with active support from the Director of Student Services.
